

What if you could get paid to show your work, even if you never sold a piece? Put your inventory to work for you!

When your work isn't being shown or hanging on walls, it might just be collecting dust or, much to the dismay of friends and loved ones, slowly taking over your living space. We at Chicago Art Leasing LLC have found a way to get those works working for you and generating revenue.

Created and owned by an artist and for artists, Chicago Art Leasing LLC gives you the ability to hang your work for sale in residential and commercial buildings where you have a qualified and captive audience. And even if you don't sell any pieces, you can continue to generate income from your art... and still own it!

We also work with our rental and buyer clients to find unique and exciting opportunities to promote and feature your artwork – through opportunities for shows, pr, marketing and even the ability to have your work appear on television and in films. We also feature our artists on our site and in our own materials to clients.

We also use only the most experienced and reliable professionals during the installation process and insure your work.

So get your original work out of storage and up on walls where it belongs! Contact us for more information.

Chicago Art Leasing LLC is your solution for reaching a captive audience while generating revenue.
